Class 12A Comments:

An interesting class with some new varieties coming through that are showing promise and flavour. The blends have been victorious getting gold, displaying complexity and interest. There are some varieties to watch here but blending them has proven to be best.

Class 12B: Other white fuller bodied varieties and blends

Class 13 Comments:

A very encouraging class of fresh and balanced wines showing a better understanding of the variety. The best examples showed great freshness, balance and creamy mousse. The lesser were too ripe and broad.

Class 18B Comments:

A good class with some nice wines and a good strike rate. Top wines showed fruit sweetness and even tannins. To many wines swamped with the excessive use of oak or picked to early.
